A Provocative Look at Modern Relationships

*"An exceptional film...sharp, intimate, and realistic...adult dramedy done right."
– Film School Rejects*

April 9, 2012 –When you get married, you're not just getting a husband or wife—you get the family, the friends, even the exes.

Buzzy (Edward Burns, Saving Private Ryan) and Katie (Caitlin Fitzgerald, It's Complicated) are newlyweds who seem to have it all, until an unexpected visit from Buzzy's wild sister, Linda (Kerry Bishé), begins to disrupt their daily routine. Katie's sister, Marcia (Marsha Dietlein Bennett), has been married to Max (Max Baker) for 18 years and suspects him of being unfaithful. As drama begins to unfold with their respective siblings, Buzzy and Katie begin to question their own relationship and whether they will ever return to their stress-free life.

Written and directed by Edward Burns with crackling humor and sharp insights into modern relationships, NEWLYWEDS tracks the tangled threads of these New Yorkers over three days. Aiming to root out the reality and bypassing the Hollywood sentimentality of love and marriage, Burns takes a pseudo-documentary approach that is no less visually striking for its on-the-fly style. Shot entirely in New York's TriBeCa neighborhood, it's a quintessential New York film from a quintessential New York director.

The film releases on standard digital platforms and DVD on May 15, following its premiere at the 2011 Tribeca Film Festival. NEWLYWEDS is Burns' sixth film in the festival.

NEWLYWEDS is written and directed by Edward Burns; executive produced by Mike Harrop; produced by Aaron Lubin, Edward Burns, William Rexer II; edited by Janet Gaynor. The DVD includes deleted scenes, an interview with Edward Burns on the inspiration for NEWLYWEDS and his filmmaking process and relationship with Tribeca, presented by American Express.
